

Kim Robbins

Kim Robbins is Director, Culture. In this role she leads a global cross-functional team to diagnose and direct a culture that supports the mission and organizational effectiveness of the Pfizer Strategy and Commercial Operations organization. She develops organizational effectiveness, communications and change strategies to inspire and recognize modeling of culture needed to deliver business priorities.