Inspiring Women Leaders - BIO

Passionate about the power of women and business to make the world a better place, Cate Goethals has developed and directs multiple programs to inspire women to achieve more than they previously believed possible. Cate is founder-director of the UW Foster Women Board Director Development Program and author of continuing research on the impact of female directors on corporate boards. Her MBA “Women at the Top” class was named by Forbes as one of the ten most innovative MBA classes. A Chief Journey Advisor for the Athena Alliance, Cate is also a leadership coach who loves working with “women on the cusp” – female leaders seeking a pathway to the next level.
