

Amy Stasko Turnquist

President, Philadelphia Chapter of the Healthcare Businesswomen's Association
Executive Vice President of Sales at eHealthcare Solutions

Amy Turnquist is a successful client strategy executive with over 20 years of experience driving incremental revenue growth through sales leadership and sales force optimization, new channel development, product innovation, sales/marketing alignment and monetization strategy.

In her current role at eHealthcare Solutions, Amy leads the strategic sales arm of EHS, driving revenue by aligning customer needs with the company's ever-evolving capabilities in HCP-level targeting across programmatic, custom, native and display advertising solutions. Amy's experience in the publishing, advertising and digital media industries began at the ADVANCE Healthcare Network, where she led their transformation to become an integrated provider of multi-channel, digital-first professional resources for physicians and allied health professionals.

Prior to joining EHS, Amy ran a successful sales consulting practice helping businesses monetize their assets in ways that delivered mutual value to customers and company stakeholders.

Amy is a passionate advocate for women's leadership and a frequent columnist and speaker on gender parity and pay equity issues. Her recent media credits include appearances and articles for NBC-10, WHYY, Philly.com and the Philadelphia Business Journal.

Amy is currently serving as the President of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Healthcare Businesswomen's Association for 2018-2019. In addition to her role as President, she also sits on the Mid-Atlantic Regional Council of HBA.
