

Annie B. Harris is the Director and Business Owner of CTMS in the Data and Technology department at Covance, Inc. She has over twenty-six years of experience in the development of the clinical trial management system in support of clinical operations, project management and the reporting and analysis of clinical trial activities. She leads the teams that performs User Access provisioning, Study Setup, EDC/IVR Data Mapping, Reporting and global process workflows for the CTMS system. In addition, she is responsible for leading requirement gathering for upgrades and/or mapping and migration efforts to and from the Oracle Siebel CTMS / CDA reporting platform.

Annie is the Chair of the Women's Empowerment Network (WEN), Employee Resource Group at Covance. The vision of WEN is to empower women to value and conquer their personal and career development goals inside and outside the workplace.

Annie is a Founding Member and Board Secretary of Women of Color in Pharma (WOCIP), a non-Profit (501c6) informal network of women committed to providing an environment that nurtures and empowers women of color employed in the Pharmaceutical Industry.

She has her BA in Business Administration from Kaplan University.