

Fabrice Chouraqui

President, Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corporation

Fabrice has deep and broad experience in the pharmaceutical industry aligned with his passion for science and innovation. He has held leadership positions in the US, Europe, Asia and Latin America with roles in Clinical Development, Marketing and General Management. As a result, he has expertise in a number of therapeutic areas including immunology, neuroscience, oncology and cardiovascular.

Fabrice joined Novartis Pharmaceuticals in 2010 as Country Head for Belgium and served as Global Business Franchise Head Neuroscience. Before becoming US President of Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corporation in 2016, Fabrice was Head of the Latin America and Canada region. In these roles he has demonstrated his ability to drive sustainable results by balancing operational excellence and forward-looking thinking, while promoting a purpose-driven culture.

Fabrice has also worked for Bristol-Myers Squibb and Hoechst Marion Roussel.

Fabrice holds a Master's degree in Science and a Pharm.D from the University of Paris as well as an MBA from INSEAD. He is married and has two sons.