

Christine Wilson

VP, Head of US GI Sales

Christine Wilson is the VP of Sales for the US GI Sales Team at Shire. After earning her B.S in marketing from Penn State she started her career at Merck almost 20 years ago before transitioning to Shire. At Shire she has held many different roles including sales training, sales operations, patient advocacy and various sales leadership roles. She has had the opportunity to grow and develop by working in different therapeutic areas and sales models including specialty, buy-and-bill, medical device and rare disease.

Christine is motivated by the patients served, the team who makes it happen every day and of course her family. She balances life alongside her husband of 14 years Mike and their active children; Madison (11) and Chase (9). She is grateful for the many mentors, colleagues, family and friends that have supported her journey.
