

Dr. Jill Conner joined Sanofi Genzyme in 2018 as a Medical Science Liaison in rare disease. Prior to joining Sanofi Genzyme, she worked at Teva Pharmaceuticals as Director of Operations in US Medical Affairs and as Senior Director Global Life Cycle Management, responsible for the life cycle management for Teva's Branded products. Over the years, Dr. Conner has worked in the pharmaceutical industry engaging with key external stakeholders, managing, leading, and providing life cycle management, study design, clinical operations, project management, and client relation services across several therapeutic areas. Dr. Jill Conner received her Ph.D. in International Health from Trident University, an M.S. in Management from Baker University, and a B.S. in Medical Technology from the University of Missouri-Kansas City. Dr. Conner's work has been presented at national and international conferences and has appeared in journals such as Journal of Neurology, Journal of Neuroscience Nursing, Journal of Parkinson's Disease, The Neurologist, Journal of Asthma, International Journal of Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Pharmacotherapy, and Journal of Autoimmunity and Cell Responses.