

Laurie Cooke

CEO, Healthcare Businesswomen's Association

Laurie Cooke is the CEO of HBA, a nonprofit dedicated to furthering the advancement and impact of women in healthcare. She was twice recognized as a PharmaVOICE 100 most inspiring people in life sciences, and Mentor of the Year by ASAE. Laurie's career spans global roles across several industries and continents including the Project Management Institute's executive management team, global pharma international teams, and hospital pharmacy. Laurie has a strong academic record with a BSc in Microbiology, an advanced scientific degree in Pharmacy, and a master's in Software Engineering Management. She is a licensed Pharmacist and a Certified Association Executive.