

Gerald Mosely

Founder and President,
CP&P Development, LLC

Gerald Mosely helps leaders and their teams achieve business objectives by focusing on people-oriented leadership components that impact an organization. Gerald has spent over 20 years in the pharmaceutical industry in roles including sales, marketing, and country management across multiple therapeutic areas, and was a general manager as well as a medical science liaison. Leading commercial and technical teams globally up to >2,000 in headcount while managing US, ex-US and global P&L's, Gerald has also led organizational design, involving structure, standards, strategy as well as people, and has driven multiple product launches in different international markets.

