

Andrew Slutsky is SVP and GM, Consumer at GoodRx where he was the third employee. Andrew leads overall strategic vision for the consumer business line and oversees marketing, physician programs, PBM relationships and manufacturer programs for GoodRx. To date, GoodRx has used their patented technology to help tens of millions of Americans save over $5 billion on their prescriptions. Through their direct-to-consumer and business-to-business software, GoodRx is bringing transparency to the pharmacy consumer.

Earlier in his career, Andrew spent 5 years as a Director at Loeb Enterprises, where he was among the first 20 employees. He conceived and managed their early pharmacy discount program, which grew to one of the largest in the country. Andrew is a cum laude graduate of Amherst College and lives in Santa Monica with his family, where GoodRx is headquartered.